SOVIET DEMANDS SPECIAL TREATMENT AT STRAITS PARLEYS

Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, right, of Milwaukee, was the key man at the recent national convention at Cleveland, where leaders of the Socialist Party urged that a ticket be placed in the field to oppose both major parties. The scene above was made in the convention hall as the question of seating delegates threatened a bitter fight between the adherents of Norman Thomas, twice Presidential nominee, and Professor Maynard Krager of the University of Chicago, the Leftist leader.

BRITISH ATTITUDE RESERVED

CORDIALITY KEYNOTE OF PROCEEDINGS

SECOND SECTION OF DRAFT AGREEMENT DISCUSSED

Montreux, To-day.

The Soviet claims for special treatment were reiterated by M. Litvinoff at the plenary meeting of the Straits Conference. The British attitude was reserved pending instructions from London on the Turkish proposals.

M. Litvinoff also suggested that the proposed prohibition against the passage of submarines should be extended to aircraft-carriers. M. Paul-Boncour urged the need to allow greater freedom of passage to States carrying out obligations under the League Covenant. Admiral Sato (Japan) said he was prepared to accept restrictions on warships going to the Black Sea provided they were also imposed on warships leaving the Black Sea. The general discussion will be adjourned to-day and there will be no further plenary meeting until after the League Assembly.

The British delegate made reservations with regard to the figure of 140,000 tons, which it was proposed to allow through the Straits. Tewfik Rashedi said that Turkey did not insist on the figure and would consider reasonable modifications.

WAR PRISONERS RELEASED

Ceremony At Addis Ababa

SCENES OF JUBILATION

Addis Ababa, To-day.

The first Abyssinian prisoners of war to recover their freedom have just been released at the order of Marshal Graziani. Some 260 Abyssinians captured in the fight around Harar were set free yesterday on the great square near the centre of the capital. Another 500 were assembled from various parts of the country, and are to be liberated this week.

Fifty of those released yesterday were, at their own request, attached to the Italian military service, while 50 other joined the pioneers. Thirty of those released are still in hospital.

The wives and families of the prisoners and crowds of sight-seers witnessed the act of liberation, while thousands of boys belonging to the youth organisations in Addis Ababa sang the Fascist Hymn when the release order was read aloud.—Trans-Ocean Service.

It is officially announced that an agreement regulating and improving the conditions between Italy and Germany with regard to civil aviation will be concluding during General Valles' stay in Germany.—Reuter.

Sports cables will be found on Page 2.

Pilot Charles W. Sutherland, right, landed his plane at Boston airport last month with one hand on the controls and the other tangled in the hair of an unidentified girl, bent on jumping from the ship in a suicide attempt. Sutherland discovered his nightseeing passenger clambering out of the rear cockpit while he flew one-mile high over Boston. She is shown at the left in tears in a Boston police station after her jump was thwarted.

Later: The Kwangsi forces withdrew, but the situation is still tense.—Reuter.

NORMANDIE TO BE SPEEDED UP

Paris, to-day.—The Compagnie Generale Transatlantique announces a considerable increase in the speed of the Normandie, which will henceforth accomplish the voyage in 10 hours less than the present time taken. The speed of 29½ knots approaches that on her maiden voyage, when she established the record.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

ALEXANDRA DAY JUBILEE

MILLIONS OF ROSES SOLD

London, To-day. The silver jubilee of Alexandra Day was celebrated yesterday throughout the country, when 12,000,000 roses were being sold. In London restaurants, buses, cafes, amusement places, street corners and even traffic islands were picketed with rose-sellers, and the weather being fine, the trade was encouraging, nine out of ten people buying roses.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

ROMAN CHURCH

Secret Meeting In Italy

Rome, To-day.

The assembly of altogether 300 of the highest dignitaries of the Church, Cardinals, Archbishops and Bishops, took place yesterday, this being the greatest assembly of its kind since the Oecumenical Council in 1870. The event is considered of prime importance.

The purpose is said to be unification of the Catholic front. The proceedings are kept strictly secret, violation of them entailing excommunication.—Trans-Ocean Service.

WEATHER REPORT

Pressure remains highest over the Pacific to the east of the Bonins; it is relatively low over the Yangtze Valley and Indo-China. East and South-east winds, moderate; fair generally. Local showers, was the forecast for to-day, as issued by the Royal Observatory this morning.

PALESTINE UNREST

ENCOUNTER AT TULKAREM

25 To 30 Arabs Killed In Action

CONTINUATION OF REVOLT APPEARS PROBABLE

"CHINA MAIL" SPECIAL

Jerusalem, To-day.

About 25 to 30 Arabs were killed, according to varying accounts, out of the total of 60 armed insurgents encountered by Government troops in the mountains near Tulkarem in Samaria. Official confirmation of this action has, however, not yet been given.

A lorry convoy, belonging to the Palestine Potash Company, was ambushed by Arabs on the road to Jericho, but the attackers were repulsed by the military escort after a fight which lasted 40 minutes. There are now signs that some sections of the Arab population are tiring of the strike and of the material sacrifices which are involved. The majority, however, are still in favour of continuing the revolt.

In Nablis, the bodies of Arabs killed in action with Government troops have been buried in the cemetery reserved for martyrs.—Trans-Ocean Service.

BROADCASTS IN ARABIC

ITALIAN STATIONS' OUTPUT

London, To-day.

The Colonial Secretary, Mr. W. B. A. Ormsby-Gore, was asked in House of Commons yesterday whether arrangements would be made for the reception and examination of the broadcasts in Arabic from the Italian stations, which were received in all parts of the Near East, including Palestine and Transjordan, with a view to ensuring that such broadcasts contained nothing of an unsuitable character.

He replied that the matter was receiving the most careful consideration from time to time of the Palestine Government.—British Wireless Service.

COMPANY MEETING

WILLIAM POWELL LIMITED

Improvement Shown In Latter Stages Of Last Year

CHAIRMAN BELIEVES BETTER TIMES ARE HERE TO STAY

Presiding at the annual general meeting of Messrs. William Powell, Ltd., this morning, Mr. E. M. Raymond, in the course of his speech, said that he was glad to report that business generally improved towards the end of last year and that, without appearing unduly optimistic, he felt that such improvement had come to stay.

The chairman also remarked that the Company's liability to the Bank had been considerably reduced and expressed the hope that the directors would be able to present a much better report when the current year's working came to be reviewed.

Supporting the chairman were Messrs. S. H. Ross and H. Overy, directors, Mr. W. I. Alexander, secretary, and the following shareholders: Messrs. H. Seth, D. Black, A. Nissim and Wong Ping-fan.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH
Addressing the meeting, the chairman said:—

"The directors regret having to present accounts for the year showing a loss of $8,728.14.

"At almost all recent shareholders' meetings of public companies in this Colony, the respective chairmen have had occasion to refer to the effects of the general depression on trading during the past year. I know you are all too painfully aware of this, and I do not propose to make any remarks other than that your company has been no exception to the general rule and has also suffered.

"Your directors have had constantly before them, throughout the year, the necessity for economy. Overhead and other expenses have been reduced to a point where in the opinion of your directors, further reductions are well nigh impossible without seriously affecting the efficiency and inevitably the turnover of your Company."

FOUR PACIFIC ISLANDS "COLONISED"

American Move To Forestall The British

Honolulu, To-day. The small islands of Baker, Jarvis and Howland, which recently figured prominently as outposts of the proposed airline from Honolulu to New Zealand, have now been officially "colonised" with American citizens, it is believed with the object of forestalling the British.

Twelve American school-boys were hastily taken from Honolulu in a coastguard cutter to the islands. Four were left on each island, and the American flag was planted.—Reuter.

CRICKETERS FETED

ALL-INDIA PLAYERS ENTERTAINED

London, To-day.

The All-India cricketers were the guests of the Lords and Commons cricket team at a luncheon at the House of Commons yesterday.

The health of the visitors was proposed by the Prime Minister. The company included Lord Willingdon, ex-Viceroy of India, and after luncheon the visitors were shown over the Houses of Parliament and were present at the opening of the House of Lords, at which Lord Willingdon was formally introduced and took his seat for the first time since his elevation to the rank of Marquis.—British Wireless Service.

Hole In One

On the Wallesey course Bert Rodson holed out his tee shot at the fourth, a distance of 165 yards.

This is the first occasion that a hole has been done in one in the Open Championship since the Oxford Blue, Mathieson, achieved the feat in 1929.—Reuter.

HUGHES SCRATCHES AT WIMBLEDON
GENE MAKO STRAINS HIS SHOULDER

London, To-day. The wedding out process continued at Wimbledon in glorious weather and a large crowd saw Fred Perry, the champion, overwhelm the Siamese Cambridge Blue, Chaitikavani, by 6-3, 6-2, 6-2, while Jack Crawford, the 1933 holder, gave a mastery display to beat the young Warwickshire player, C. E. Hare, by 6-3, 6-2, 8-6.

G. P. Hughes, the British Davis Cup player who eliminated Khotin, is feeling the effects of a slight heart strain and is saving himself for the Davis Cup. He has, therefore, scratched from the singles. Gene Mako, the American Davis Cup player, has strained his shoulder but hopes to carry on in the doubles.

In the women's singles, Mne Sperling, formerly Mlle Krahwinke, who was the finalist in 1931, Miss Kay Stammers (Britain), and Senorita Lizana (Chile) all easily reached the third round.

Outstanding Second Round results were:—
H. W. Austin (Britain) beat Sproule (Australia) 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.
W. Allison (America) beat J. Jones (America) 14-12, 6-3, 6-4.
B. Grant (America) beat Delaford (Britain) 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.
Donald Budge (America) beat Ian Collins (Britain) 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.
J. Van Ryn (America) beat H. Tinner (Holland) 6-4, 8-6, 6-3.
G. von Cramm (Germany), second favourite for the title, beat L. Hecht (Czechoslovakia), 5-4, 6-3, 6-1.
Adrian Quist, the Australian champion, beat Ellmer, the Swiss champion, 8-6, 6-3, 6-1.

The young British Army player, Raymond Tuckey, beat the French boy Destremean, 7-5, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Vivian McGrath (Australia) beat P. Landry (France) 5-7, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

Itoh (Japan) beat Haanes (Norway), 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

In his match with Perry, Chaitikavani wisely kept to the base-line where his fine back-hand drives showed to special advantage. He refused to be drawn to the net, but occasionally came up and with clever volleying beat Perry on several occasions.

Perry was once more hitting with great power, especially on his back-hand, and though the Siamese proved a cool and brainy player and put up a very commendable display, he was no match for the champion.

Itoh indulged in some brilliant smashing and easily outplayed Haanes.

The Japanese ace exploited his opponent's weak back-hand and pounced him again and again with a slow but exceedingly tricky service.

Women's Singles Second Round
Mme. Mathieu (France) beat Miss Dearman, the British Wightman Cup player, 6-3, 6-2.
Meule Meester (Belgium) beat Miss Yorke (Britain), 6-4, 6-1.
Mme. Sperling, the 1931 finalist, beat Miss O'Connell (Great Britain), 7-5, 6-2.

Mary Heeley (Britain) beat Miss Hayek (Britain), 6-3, 6-4.

Mlle. Jodzisowska, the Polish champion, and Mollie Adamson, the Belgian champion, have reached the Third Round.

Mixed Doubles
J. Stratford (America) and Mrs. Bruton (Britain) beat Itoh (Japan) and Mrs. Cooper (Britain) 6-4, 7-5, 8-6.—Reuter.

AMERICA WINS AGAIN
WESTCHESTER CUP POLO

London, To-day. In the third match for the Westchester polo cup, played between England and America at Hurlingham today, America beat England by 15 goals to 9.

America have thus won all three matches.

The scorers were:—
America: Gerry, eight; Pedley, five; Iglehart, two.
England: Hughes, six; Balding, two; Tyrrell Martin one.

Strawbridge for America, and Prior Palmer for England were the respective backs.

The scores by chukkers were: England, 2-1; America, 2-1, 5-1, 2-2, 3-0, 1-1, England 2-1.—Reuter.

TOOK 44 lbs. OFF HER WEIGHT

Now Wears Size 38 Instead Of 44

"All my friends were telling me how stout I was getting," writes a woman, "and so I decided to do something about it. I tried several reducing stunts, all with the same result. I remained at the same overweight. My husband assured me that it was my age, and that nothing would reduce my weight and size."

"One day I saw an advertisement telling how a lady had lost 28 lbs. in a month. So I decided to try the same treatment—Kruschen Salts. I obtained a bottle of these. I was three months ago and my weight was then 12 stone 8 lbs. Now I am once more back to my original weight—9 stone 6 lbs.—and once more wear a size 38, instead of a 44. Besides which, I feel so much better, more energetic, and can do my work without that tired feeling. I owe all this to my daily dose of Kruschen Salts, and I have recommended them to all my overweight friends." (Mrs.) J. M.

Kruschen contains those six mineral salts, proportionately balanced, found in the waters of those famous European Spas used by generations of fat people to reduce weight.

Cinema Notes From The Theatres"BROWN ON RESOLUTION"
—KING'S THEATRE

One of the most amusing incidents in this picture is the scene in which jolly British sailors are fraternising in peace time with their German prototypes, during which they teach them how to sing "Danny Boy." Even this touch of merriment has its intensely dramatic side, for the brave young Albert Brown is forced to shoot the lad who was his friend in order to carry out the task to which he had committed himself.

Betty Balfour as the mother of Able-Seaman Albert Brown, presents a remarkably natural portrayal of the devoted parent when the boy and his friend "Ginger" come home on leave.

Before her son returns to his ship she presents him with a watch inscribed with the initials of Nelson which had been given to her as a keepsake by the father of her child.

The possession of this watch inspires the young sailor to the greatest deed of heroism.

"THE EAGLE'S BROOD"
—QUEEN'S THEATRE

This picture, featuring William Boyd and Jimmy Ellison, is about the new adventures of "Hopalong Cassidy" in the picturesque, dangerous days of the old west. "Hopalong" is cast as a peace officer in the lawless town of Hell Centre, determined to restore law and order and wipe out the reign of terror established by a gang of bad men. Cassidy also has a mission to accomplish, and with his pal "Johnny Nelson," hot-headed young cowboy, the two set out to locate the missing grandson of a former outlaw.

A series of exciting events trail the two boys before they are successful in their hunt. William Farnum, Dorothy Revier and Addison Richards are in the cast. Howard Bretherton directed.

"GENTLEMEN ARE BORN"
—ORIENTAL THEATRE

Franchot Tone has three leading ladies in the talented all-star cast of this picture. They are Jean Muir, Margaret Lindsay and Ann Dvorak, and their roles are of almost equal importance.

In this picture, which concerns the adventures of four college boys struggling for a place in a disorganised world, Miss Lindsay plays opposite to Tone. Her wealth and his poverty cause many a rift in their path of love.

Jean Muir has the role of sweetheart and later the wife of Tone's chum, while Ann Dvorak is the sweetheart of still another of his friends.

Other noted players in the cast include Charles Starrett, Russell Hicks, Marjorie Gatenon and Bradley Page.

"BROADWAY HOSTESS"
—MAJESTIC THEATRE

The story treats of life on the Great White Way, particularly the night clubs and the palatial gambling halls. It is the story of a little country girl who goes to the big city to make good in theatrical work.

She finds it a tough job to crash Broadway, until she meets a big gambler, who puts her over in a big way and makes her the toast of the bright light district.

Comedy and thrills follow in quick succession until a smashing climax, in which the gambler is slain by the brother of the woman he loves.

"THE MAN ON THE FLYING TRAPEZE"—STAR THEATRE

In the role of a hen-pecked husband at home, a down-trodden clerk at the office, Fields assumes his characterisation, dominating one hilarious scene after another without a stop.

His troubles begin immediately when at the point of retiring for the night, a complete and supreme bit of mirth in itself, burglars break in and Mr. Fields is forthwith dispatched by his nagging wife, Kathleen Howard, to the cellar to catch the culprits.

Instead he indulges in a bit of applejack drinking with them, even becoming a member of a temporary and hastily improvised quartet. He lands in gaol, and the thieves go free.

His daughter, Mary Brian, finally rescues him. His selfish young brother-in-law steals his ticket to the wrestling match upon which he has set his heart. He retaliates by telling his boss he must attend his mother-in-law's "funeral" and gets the afternoon off.

His efforts to get to the fight end disastrously after a series of rollicking events. The effect of his "funeral" story results in his denouncing his "in-laws." He departs with his daughter. From then on, things change for the better. His boss begs for his return to the office where he acted as memory expert.

The film closes in the same hilarious fashion which characterises the entire comedy.

The supporting players, who include, in addition to Mary Brian and Kathleen Howard, Lucien Littlefield, Grady Sutton, Vera Lewis and Oscar Apfel, all contribute to the fun of the piece. Clyde Bruckman directed.

"EVERYBODY'S OLD MAN"
—ALHAMBRA THEATRE

This new Fox picture is a breezy, delightful comedy romance of canny age pitted against modern youth. It introduces Irvin S. Cobb in his first starring role, and gives full scope to the radiant humour, the genial, kindly wit that has long made him America's favourite story-teller.

Cobb, who made his sensational feature debut as the jovial steamboat captain of "Steamboat Round the Bend," occupies the centre of interest in the new picture, with lovely Rochelle Hudson, Johnny Downs and Norman Foster elected to head the splendid supporting cast.

The plot deals with the curious adventures a king of industry encounters when he retires from business to devote his time to straightening out a group of wild and reckless youngsters.

Miss Hudson and Foster are coupled in the romantic leads, and Sara Haden, Donald Meek and Warren Hymer are prominent in the supporting cast of the picture, directed by James Flood.

WHY HE TOOK THE WHISKY

Theft Charge Fails

Samuel Johnston, aged 35, of Northampton, was found not guilty at Northamptonshire Assizes last month of breaking into a Kettering wine and spirit stores and stealing six bottles of whisky.

Johnston, whose defence was that he always had the intention of paying for the whisky, said that the front door of the store was fastened, but a sliding door at the side was not locked. Entering, he found nobody about. He then took the whisky, intending to tell an official of the firm, whom he knew, what he had done, and to pay for the spirits.

Discharging Johnston, Mr. Justice Hawke said: "You know what a fool you have been."

Precise Slam
Bidding

By Ely Culbertson

A "good hand" can be made up of so many different kinds of honour trick combinations that even a master player seldom knows which of the high cards in his hand are valuable for slam purposes, and which are without value. The 4-5 no trump convention locates aces, but sometimes it is a lower card, such as a queen, which makes the difference between success and failure at a grand slam.

Two friends of mine, excellent players, went wrong on the following hand, and no one could find it in his heart to blame them.

South, dealer.

Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding:

South West North East

3H Pass 4H Pass

4NT Pass 5C Pass

7S [final bid]

North did his best, playing for a complicated sort of squeeze which would have given him the contract if the same defender had held the queen of hearts and the queen-jack of clubs; but it was hopeless.

Unlookers blamed North for raising the hearts, but he had support for a rebid suit, and did not want to deny this support by bidding three no trump.

Cases of this type are easily

DEBTS PAID IN FULL$12,500 Left To A
Bankrupt

Having been left $12,500—one-sixteenth of a $1,000,000 ($200,000) will—by an uncle in America, John Singleton, a bankrupt, has paid all his debts in full.

Singleton was formerly a taxicab proprietor in Bradford, and applied for the annulment of his bankruptcy recently.

Mr. W. Foy Cresswell, the Official Receiver, said the receiving order was made in 1923.

The debtor's uncle was Mr. George S. Singleton, formerly of Bradford. Of the $200,000 he had left, $1,200 had already arrived in England, and Mr. J. Singleton had cleared his liabilities.

"It has been a 'windfall' for both debtor and creditors," said Mr. Cresswell.

Granting the application, Judge McCleary said Mr. J. Singleton had been very fortunate.

handled by means of the jump five no trump bid, a new feature of the Culbertson system which is the only grand slam force in existence. When a player jumps to five no trump [not preceded by four no trump] he demands that his partner bid seven if he holds any ace, and the queen or better in the five no trump bidder's suit. Otherwise, the partner must sign off at six.

In the hand above, South, after North's four heart bid, would have jumped immediately to five no trump. North, having an ace but lacking the queen of hearts, would have signed off with six hearts; and there, or at six spades, the hand would have been played and made.

North and South had every honour trick in the deck, and it seems ridiculous to lose points on such hands. Modern contract bidding will eliminate most of such unnecessary losses.

"LOVER OF ENGLAND" AGAIN

$2,000 Gift To Reduce
National Debt

The Chancellor of the Exchequer recently received $2,000 from "A Lover of England," as a contribution towards the reduction of the National Debt. He expressed his thanks for the gift and his warm appreciation of the spirit which prompted it.

In June, 1933, it was announced that "A Lover of England" had sent to the Chancellor a parcel of gold articles as a contribution towards the repayment of the American Debt. The National Debt now totals $7,796,056,000.

RICHMOND WOMAN
AGED 104Constable's Last Relative

Mrs. Mary J. Stubbin, a great-niece of Constable, the artist, who died in 1837, recently celebrated her 104th birthday in her Richmond home.

She claims to be the only surviving relative of the great landscape painter. Her health and appearance are the envy of many women 20 or 30 years younger.

Fifty guests were present at her party, including the Mayor and Mayoress of Richmond and other well-known people in the district where she has lived for over 20 years.

Visitors Welcomed

Mrs. Stubbin still reads and knits without glasses. Five years ago she made a remarkable recovery from a fractured thigh.

"I always welcome visitors," she told a press representative recently, "and I shall certainly be downstairs for my birthday."

"I am proud to have lived in five reigns and to have received a letter from King George V. on the occasion of my 100th anniversary."

MAHMOUD BEATS TAJ AKBAR TO WIN DERBY IN RECORD TIME

OPEN BOWLS UPSET

FORMER HOLDER WINS

F. X. SILVA BEATEN AT K.D.R.C.

GAME OF FLUCTUATING FORTUNES

A game of fluctuating fortunes is the best description of the lawn bowls Open Singles Championship match between W. Mulcahy and J. Hoosen, which was played on the Craigengower green last evening and which resulted in a win for the former by 21 shots to 14.

Mulcahy ran into a 10-3 lead on the 7th head, but thereafter Hoosen bowled so well that he made the scores 14-12 in his favour on the 15th end. This however, proved the best he could do, for the K.C.C. player then asserted himself and scored at the next four ends to win. Hoosen scored a four on the 10th head and Mulcahy returned the compliment on the 16th end.

TO-DAY'S BOWLS

Silva Meets Grimmitt At Kowloon Dock

Of the seven games down for decision in the Lawn Bowls Open Singles competition to-day there is only one game which promises to be interesting; that between C. G. Silva, the Recreio senior skip, and A. W. Grimmitt, a former champion.

Another game that should be worth watching will be between J. Noronha and S. A. Bright at the Kowloon Cricket Club — both are No. 1's for their respective clubs.

The following are to-day's games:

Open Singles
J. Noronha v S. A. Bright, at K.C.C.
C. G. Silva v A. W. Grimmitt, at K.D.R.C.
J. A. R. Selby v M. R. Abbas, at C.C.C.
G. N. Mitchell v A. E. Silkestone, at Recreio.
A. M. Omar v F. C. Goodman, at Taikoo.
P. E. Knight v A. Spary, at Police R.C.
F. E. E. Booker v A. Hyde-Lay, at C.S.C.C.

Senorita Lizana, pretty Chilean tennis ace, is likely to prove a definite menace at Wimbledon next week.

Sellers' 204 Makes Yorkshire Record

London, May 28.

The highest individual cricket score by an amateur for Yorkshire is A. B. Sellers' 204 against Cambridge University. It included a 6 and 25 4's. The next best is 194 made by the late Frank Mitchell.

Sellers allowed Leyland to complete a not out century, then declared, the champions' innings closed at 439 for four.

TWO SURPRISES AT CHISWICK

Miss Nuthall And Mrs. King Beaten

London, May 28.

There were two surprising results in the Chiswick Park tournament yesterday. Mrs. King, who is thought by many to be a likely candidate for the third single in the Wightman Cup match again this year, went down to Miss P. O'Connell 6-3, 8-6, and Miss Nuthall was beaten by Miss Jean Saunders 6-3, 6-3.

AGA KHAN'S THIRD TRIUMPH

CELEBRATION AT THE EMBASSY CLUB

WINNER'S BRILLIANT FINISH

(By Hotspur)

London, May 28.

FOR the second year in succession and the third time in seven years the Aga Khan has won the Derby. Not only did his grey colt, Mahmoud, win it yesterday, but his Taj Akbar was second.

There is no other living owner who has won the Derby three times, and only one other living owner who has won it two years running — the Duke of Portland, with Ayrshire and Donovan, in 1888 and 1889.

Hardly ever in the history of the English Turf have so many dazzling successes come the way of one owner in so short a space of time, for it is only 14 years ago that the Aga Khan began buying yearlings in England, and he has the immense satisfaction of having bred most of his best winners in recent years.

A few days ago it was recalled that in the sixth year of each decade the Derby is won by a very good horse. On his performance yesterday Mahmoud is an exceptional colt, for he beat his stable companion, Taj Akbar, with consummate ease by three lengths and in the record time of 2 min. 33 4-5 sec., as against the previous best accomplished by Windsor Lad and Hyperion, 2 min. 34 sec.

Mahmoud's performance was an astonishing one, for when Thanable mile races at Ascot, Donoghue who rode Mahmoud third, three-parts of a length behind Taj Akbar, shot away down the hill with a long lead he must have been eight to ten lengths in front of the winner.

Yet, so great was the speed shown by Mahmoud after making the turn, that he caught the Northern colt two furlongs out and then ran right away from him.

Smirke, his jockey, who now has the enviable record of having ridden two winners of the Derby and two of the St. Leger in the last three years, said to me after the race that Mahmoud was so full of running he could have gone another two furlongs at least without being troubled.

Doubts Dispelled

And this is the colt that so many people had put down as unlikely to stay the distance! Indeed, an original idea was to run him for the Two Thousand (in which he finished second to Pay Up), miss the Derby with him,

A Recreio Bowler

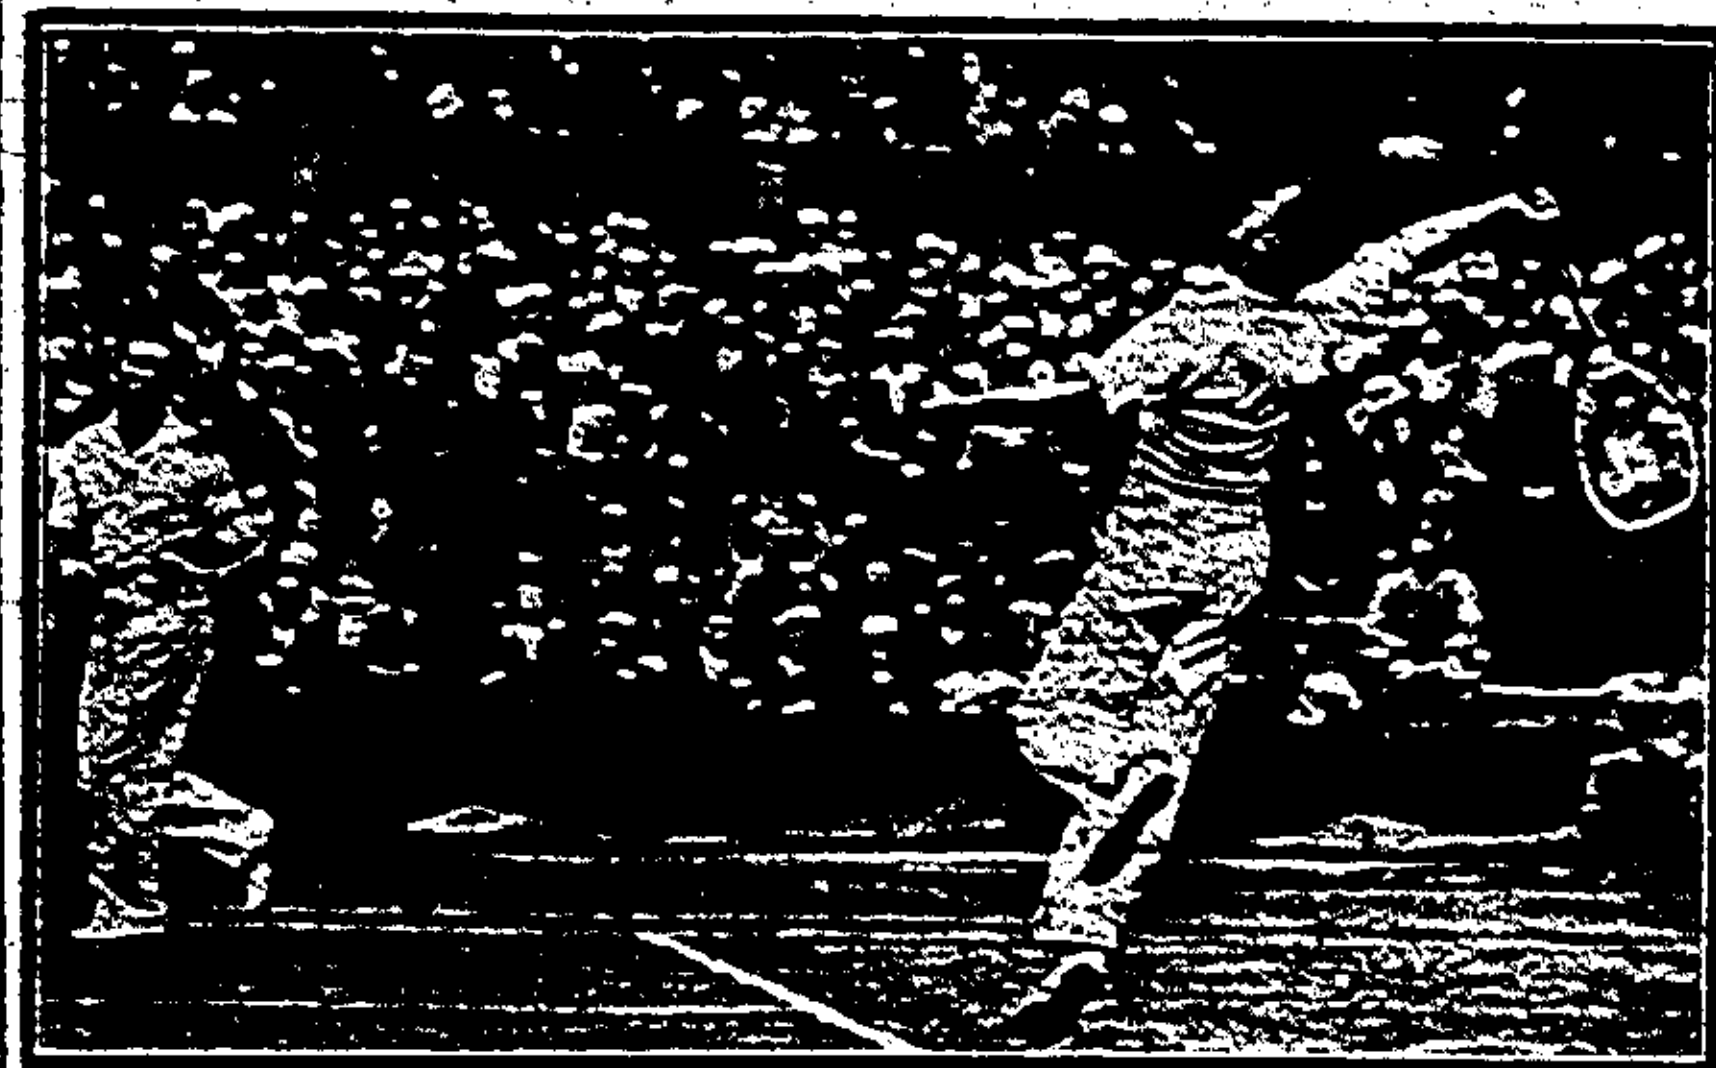

LUIZ A. Gutierrez, the Club de Recreio lawn bowler and donor of the Gutierrez Shield for the International bowls competition, was for several years one of St. Joseph's College's outstanding athletes, representing the school in all the inter-school athletic meetings and at soccer. While at the Hong Kong University he played for them in the League.

Gutierrez started lawn bowls at Craigengower late in the 1926 season, and the following year played for them in the League.

He later transferred to Club de Recreio and won the Colony Championship in 1932, and was a member of the Club de Recreio rink which won the Spey Royal Cup that year. He was the singles champion of the Recreio in 1934, and has been runner-up on three occasions.

It is interesting to note that Gutierrez was the first Scout Master after the war when the Boy Scout movement was revived in Hong Kong in 1921 and the first Hong Kong Troop (St. Joseph's) was re-started. He was present at the Scout Rally at Government House when His Majesty King Edward VIII (then Prince of Wales) visited the Colony in 1922.

Gutierrez was also the first business manager of the "Silver Wolf," the official organ of Scout activities in Hong Kong. (Another personality will appear to-morrow.)

Adrian Quist, left, and Jack Crawford, the Wimbledon Doubles champions, seen here in play during last year's tournament, beat their Czech rivals in the First Round last Tuesday.

It was difficult to understand how they beat Craigengower by 5½ sets to 3½ last Wednesday.

UMPIRING IN LOCAL BALL ENCOUNTERS

APPEAL FOR MORE CO-OPERATION

MIKUNI FIT AGAIN

(By "INFIELD")

The question of umpiring in the local baseball League has already been raised several times during the season, but no solution has yet been found to remedy the situation. There are very few in the Colony who really know the rules of the game thoroughly and these few are not available as umpires.

Some time during the early part of the season it was agreed that all teams competing in the League should nominate two of their members to umpire such games in which their own team was not participating, and this has been done in several cases.

The Volunteers and Eastern, both of whom have only learned their baseball in the Colony, have not been able to supply any referees and this "duty" has consequently fallen on the other teams. J. Thompson, the secretary, is always willing to render any service in this connection and he has been umpiring games every week.

"C" DIVISION PROGRAMME OF SIX GAMES

Recreio Favoured To Win

K.C.C. "A" SHOULD BEAT JUNIOR TEAM

A full programme of matches in the "C" Division of the Lawn Tennis League has been arranged for to-day, and an interesting game should be that between the two Kowloon Cricket Club teams. The "A" have so far secured the maximum number of points for three matches played while the "B" have been beaten once in three outings, having lost to the Kowloon Indians, who, incidentally, are so far unbeaten, though they have only met the Army in addition to the K.C.C. "B".

The best match of the day promises to be that between Kowloon Indians and the Recreio, and though the former won both of their matches played so far by 7-2 margins, the chances are that they will be beaten by their neighbours in a closely contested match. Recreio are now heading the League table with three wins in as many matches.

South China Athletic Association should retain their 100 per cent record when they meet Craigengower.

REQUESTS RETURN BOUT

New York, May 28.

DAVE CROWLEY, the Clerkenwell featherweight, and Norman Snow, the Northampton light-weight, greatly impressed in their contests at the Queenboro arena, Long Island, last night.

William Allison, reigning American lawn tennis singles champion, is seeking new honours at Wimbledon.

In one of the most exciting fights seen in New York, Crowley held Mike Belloise, world champion according to the New York State Athletic Commission, to a draw over 10 rounds. Snow outpointed Eddie McGreger, of Scranton (New Jersey), in a 10-round bout.

Crowley thought he had won. "I would like a return contest with Belloise," he said.

Mr. Sol Gold, who piloted Kid Berg to a world title fight, and is looking after Crowley's interests here, said he would accept nothing but a fight with Belloise for the world feather-weight title. For Crowley's next contest.

Crowley's fierce, two-fisted style was a revelation. Time and time again the men got to close quarters and fought toe to toe.

A hard right hook put Crowley down in the fifth round, but he

SCHMELING'S BOLD BID FOR BOXING RECORD

LIVERMORE ADONIS IS INSPIRED!

1ST. MAN TO REGAIN WORLD TITLE

LOUIS CONCEDED GOOD CHANCE IN COMEBACK

MAX BAER STARTS TALKING

New York, June 20.

RIDING on the crest of his Louis victory wave, Max Schmeling, of Germany, was preparing to-day to return to his native land assured that he will get a crack at the heavyweight championship crown now adorning the head of Jim Braddock.

Schmeling and Braddock, who, combined, have caused more fistic upsets than any other pair of heavyweights in history, will fight for the championship next September at Yankee Stadium in the same ring where the German scored his amazing knockout over the Bombed Bomber, Joe Louis.

Meanwhile, the badly beaten Detroit Negro, his jaw badly swollen from the terrific rights Max shot to his face for 12 rounds, is expected by the experts to punch his way back to the top within a year. Louis left for Detroit with his manager, John Roxborough, where he will rest for two or three weeks before resuming training. Promoter Mike Jacobs said he plans to find an opponent for Louis this August.

Jacobs, representing the Twentieth Century Athletic Club, who entered into a contract with Schmeling before the Louis fight, said that he was positive he could satisfy all concerned on the Braddock-Schmeling bout.

Main Ambition

Schmeling declared that "I hope to beat Braddock and become the first man to regain the heavyweight championship. I believe that I can hit hard enough and often enough to win."

"I am a proud man," said Max after awakening a step nearer regaining the world title.

"I never would have entered the ring risking being beaten by the coloured man if I was not convinced in my own heart I could win."

"I saw Louis fight Paolino Uzcudun and spotted many weak spots. I kept telling everyone I was not afraid of Joe Louis but no one believed me."

"What Happened?"

New York, June 20.—"What happened?" mumbled Joe Louis in a broken-hearted voice upon awakening to-day with a hazy recollection of the pummeling he received from Max Schmeling last night.

It was a wild night in Harlem where the negro population ran wild as Louis, their idol, fell. Seven hundred policemen, assigned to the region to restrain what was expected to be victory celebrations, had their hands full quelling outbreaks of shooting, stabbing and street fighting as the Harlemites expressed their disappointment.

RISKO'S STIFF TEST

DEFENDING TITLE AGAINST STEELE

Seattle, Washington, June 16.

Eddie (Babe) Risko, the Polish-American middleweight boxing champion of the world, will defend his title against Freddie Steele, of Tacoma, Washington, in a 15-round fight here on July 10.

Nate Druxman will promote the contest, which will be staged in the Seattle Baseball Park.

Risko is facing a tartar in Steele, who has already given him a tidy thrashing in a non-title contest, and who is regarded as one of the best middleweights in the country to-day.

Druxman revealed that he had guaranteed Risko $25,000 plus $1,000 for training expenses.

End Of Career?

Policemen had to carry Carnera to his dressing room, as he was unable to walk. It was generally thought he had reached the end of his fistic career.

The verdict was awarded to Haynes on a technical knock-out. Haynes thus repeated his sensational victory of last March, when he battered Carnera into submission in three rounds.

Strained With Agony

When the end came Haynes, who had a long lead of points, had just finished punishing Carnera with rights to the head. The Italian gamely attempted to land with some jabs and rights to

BAER AND PETERSEN MAY MEET

Wembley's $6,000 Offer To American

It is believed that Max Baer, former world's heavyweight champion, will accept an offer to box Jack Petersen in London next July. The offer has been made by Wembley Stadium.

"I have cabled Baer an offer of $6,000," Mr. A. J. Elvin, managing director of Wembley Stadium, saw yesterday. "I will not, however, pay a penny more. Petersen would also get $6,000."

This dramatic picture shows Carnera all out to knock out Impellittere in their New York bout, despite the fact that the latter's manager was in the ring trying to save his man from further punishment. Just a year later Carnera was carried out of the ring by six policemen after being battered to a pulp by Leroy Haines!

CARNERA'S DOWNFALL

CARRIED FROM RING BY SIX BURLY POLICEMEN

London, May 28.—Carnera carried from the ring by six burly policemen.

This was the dramatic end to the fight between Leroy Haines—the "Black Shadow"—and the Italian giant at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, New York, last night.

Forty seconds after the opening of the ninth round, Carnera reeled into the ropes after taking a terrific pounding, and the referee stopped the fight.

Carnera was helped to his corner and a doctor was called. He said the Italian was suffering from temporary paralysis of the left leg.

the body, but he was fighting on one foot, and fell against the ropes.

Carnera, his face strained with agony, had to be held up by policemen, who, after an inspection, carried the giant from the ring to his dressing room.

Paralytic Stroke

There a doctor pronounced that Carnera had had a paralytic stroke.

The official diagnosis of the injury by three doctors was: "A twisting and partial dislocation of the sacroiliac joint, resulting in paralysis of the left leg from the thigh to the toes."

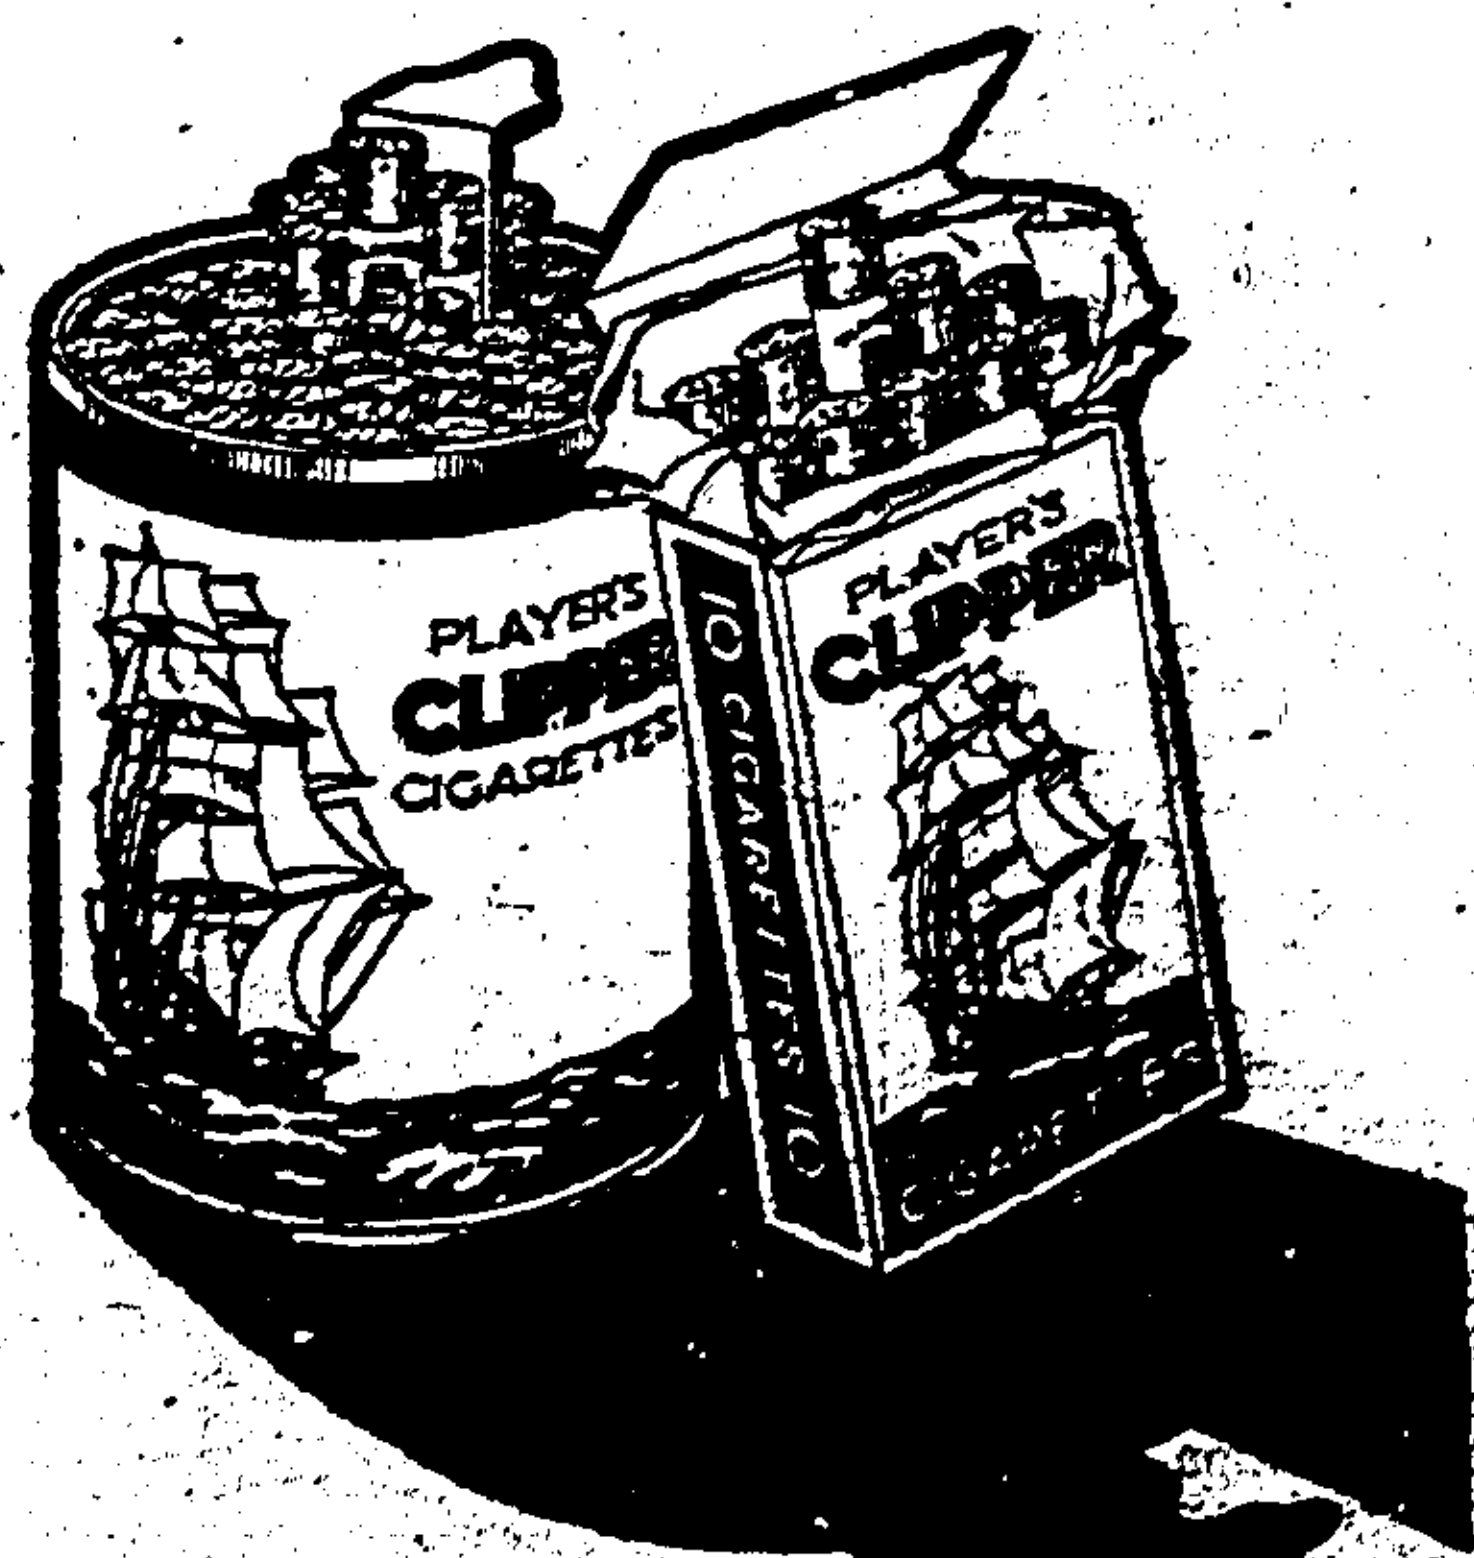

The trouble is apparently only temporary.

Red Herrings And The League

Tuesday's foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons on the Labour motion of non-confidence in the Government produced as fine a crop of red herrings as ever obscured a fundamental issue. Sir John Simon, replying for the Government, blathered about the marvellous show the British Navy could put up, and it would. Mr. Stanley Baldwin talked in one breath about continuing to work for collective security within the League, as reconstituted since the immense blow to which it has lately been subjected, and in the next defended a policy which if persisted in, will bring a grand and final finish to any such conception. According to the Prime Minister, the integrity of the Central European States is to be defended by the collective guarantee of the Powers; but he proposes to condone, without lifting a finger to right a great wrong, the total assimilation of a weaker Power by a ruthless and completely unprincipled aggressor. According to a Reuter message, "recalling that Mr. Eden had said that Britain would be very glad to see oil sanctions applied, Sir John Simon protested at the unfairness of treating the failure to impose oil sanctions as a crime of the British Government." Another red herring, the point being discussed was not whether or not anybody had committed a crime in the failure to impose oil sanctions, but whether the British Government is or is not committing something so near a crime as makes no matter in putting, in Sir Archibald Sinclair's phrase, "a premium on successful aggression and making the world safe for dictators."

No amount of argument, excuse or explanation will alter the one salient fact about the proposed policy: which is that it is at least a reversal of everything that has gone before, and at most an abandonment of the high ideals which gave birth to the League. It is futile for the Prime Minister to insist that British policy still stands by the League. It does nothing of the sort. It stands by a completely vitiated, spineless, invertebrate, jelly-like League, so distorted from its declared functions as to be worth no more than a snip of the fingers. It is not a League created to dispose of collective security for the weakest of its members, since it has shown itself to be utterly incapable of defending their interests when they are menaced—not from outside, which might be excusable, but from within, by a fellow-member. In the face of acknowledged failure the British Government does not propose to continue its efforts to build up a strong institution which will be capable of exerting some condign influence on outlawry, but to continue to give lip service to an institution which in the future bids fair to become a woeful parody of a debating society, with about as much relation to actual facts as a mother's meeting in the vestry. The principle seems to be to talk loud and long about the wonderful things the League is doing so long as things are running smoothly and everybody is playing according to the rules; but, as soon as it comes up against the reality of some bully refusing to do so, to cross one's fingers and talk blandly about "reform," meanwhile allowing

FOR DEFENCE OF ENGLAND

Appeal Made To Ex-Servicemen

MEN OF 45 TO 60

Great interest has been aroused among many thousands of ex-Servicemen by the announcement of Mr. Duff Cooper, Secretary for War, of the intention to reorganise and develop the Royal Defence Corps, which was formed two years ago.

Mr. Duff Cooper is expected to give details of the projects in the House of Commons as soon as the plans are completed. It is expected that an appeal will be made to ex-Regular soldiers and ex-Territorials to join the defence force to be ready to take guard duty at important points about the country in time of war.

No Peacetime Duties
Members of the Royal Defence Corps must be between 45 and 60 years of age, but they must not be reservists. At the present time the corps is several thousand strong.

Members of the corps will have no peacetime duties, nor will they wear uniform, but they will be given a badge on enrolment. The badge is the Royal Cipher and Crown within a circle, bearing the title of the corps.

If called up for service, the men will receive a bounty of £5 and the current rates of Territorial Army pay. The County Territorial Associations are responsible for their enrolment.

A similar corps was organised during the war, but was disbanded after the armistice. At one time it numbered 100,000 men.

WOMAN WINS APPEAL

Disqualified For Ten Years

Mrs. Grace Muriel Winn, aged 39, of Clarence-square, Brighton, successfully appealed at Surrey Quarter Sessions last month against a sentence by the Epsom justices, after conviction for dangerous driving, of two months' imprisonment and disqualification from driving for life.

The Appeals Committee imposed a fine of £40 and disqualified Mrs. Winn from holding a licence for two years. They allowed her £5 costs.

CITY STREET WIDENING

the case to be carried by default.

Almost anything would be better than this—even the complete disintegration of the League and everything that it stands for altogether. In that case the world would have to return to the system of pacts and alliances between those nations with mutual interests to support and defend. This would immediately give rise to the old balance of power, with its corollary of heavily armed camps sitting on either side of bristling fences and everybody too frightened to move. There would also be some fine bills to meet in the matter of national armaments. Thus the "security" of the heavily-armed nations would be effected. As for the others—the small, weak Powers unable to provide for their own defence—their position, of course, would hardly be enviable; but then, what can they expect now, with the League as it is, or even in the future, with the "League" as it is proposed to be? At least they would know exactly where they were, and would no doubt take the best steps in the shape of mutual-assistance pacts—to provide for themselves. With Europe as at present constituted every small Power depending on the aid of "collective security"—what ever that can be held to mean now—for its protection is living in a fool's paradise of truly colossal dimensions. That Great Britain, the moral leader of the world, should propose to condone the creation of this state of affairs is something to regret to the very limit of one's powers.

COVENT GARDEN'S WATCHDOG

So far this season Sir Thomas Beecham has not "told off" the audience at Covent Garden. The stalls, however, should not be lulled into a false sense of security. He is watching them closely.

Sir Thomas saw the last performance of "Tosca" from a box. While off duty as a conductor he did not divest himself of his responsibilities as mentor to the Royal Opera public.

Signor Lauri-Volpi's singing was drawing the applause which tenors consider their due. More than once the performance was interrupted by cheering from the gallery.

Finally the stalls became infected, and under this mass attack of Italian enthusiasm, the conductor, Signor Bellezza, was brought to a standstill.

Then above the clapping was heard a loud "Shut up." In the darkened auditorium it was judged to have come from the box occupied by Sir Thomas Beecham.

Your Daily Smile!

Golfer (to partner in foursome)—"What was the matter with you at the sixth and seventh? You went all to pieces. If you hadn't recovered so wonderfully we'd have lost for a cert."

"Partner"—"Well, it suddenly struck me that I was to have been married to-day, but when I remembered I'd no game fixed for next Wednesday I felt O.K. again."

The Sunday school girls of a certain church put flowers in front of the pulpit each Sunday.

One was asked by a strange minister who had been preaching that day what they did with the flowers after the service.

"Oh, we take them to people who are sick after the sermon," was the innocent reply.

A woman out shopping decided to call at her husband's office in order to have company for lunch.

"Mr. Wayne's out for the afternoon," said the office boy.

"Do you know where he has gone?"

"No, ma'am."

"Well, perhaps you can ask his Secretary, she should know."

"She does, she went with him!" was the reply.

He: "All men have a soft spot somewhere." She: "That's why women throw themselves at their heads."

AMERICAN VIEWS REEL

LIFE IN THE EASTERN PROVINCES

WHAT COUNTRY HAS LEARNED SINCE THE WAR

(By Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, M.P.)

I HAVE now visited and spoken in Washington, Philadelphia, New York, St. Louis, Kansas City, Des Moines, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Indianapolis and Chicago. We have had time to drive through and around Chicago. Its great buildings give a skyline which is as lovely as New York's, especially the fine Michigan Avenue. But the marvel of the place is its cosmopolitanism.

If there are gangsters, the tourist does not see them. We have not been kidnapped, and the town seems full of busy people going about their daily affairs just as peacefully as we do, but with greater speed and more noise.

Millions On Relief

I have talked with Governors of States, State High Court judges, mayors, and councillors of cities, clergy and priests and rabbis, social workers, trade unionists, socialists and business men.

All of them without party distinction admit that the policy of President Roosevelt of using national resources for the relief of the unemployed and the provision of useful work saved the country at the beginning of the crisis from bloodshed and possibly revolution. They all object, too, to giving mere relief without work, and are afraid of the continuation of such a policy.

But, in spite of the President's policy, and the enormous empty areas still existing in this country, there is an uncountable number of people forced to live on relief or by employment on relief works.

It is worth noting, by the way, that all this expenditure on public works is of exactly the same kind as we Socialists in Great Britain have advocated and partly adopted, and for which the Labour Government was thrown out of office in 1931.

Prevention Of Floods

Huge works for the prevention of floods are taking place all along the Mississippi River; roads are being remade, and level crossings abolished. Viaducts are being built to carry roads and railways across swampy land; parks are being laid out, hospitals, schools and public buildings are going up.

But no one believes what has been and is still being done is any real remedy for the economic conditions prevailing here and elsewhere. This nation was built up on individual effort, and all its education and belief depend on that. Now it finds its workers reduced to mere robots, part of a huge machine for turning out goods which when produced in abundance cannot be consumed.

Much hard thinking is going on. The small business people, farmers, small-holders, natural enemies of Socialism, find themselves up against a situation which none of their previous education or experience has fitted them for.

It seems already to be accepted that the old conditions will never come back. Even people who are not Socialists or Radicals now say, "We must control the machine or it will smash itself and us." The word of which they are fondest is co-operation. There is at present very little clarity, but in an undefinable way men's thoughts are turning away from the old way of thinking.

Slow Process

The process is slow, for there is at present very little effective political action by Labour or Socialist parties here.

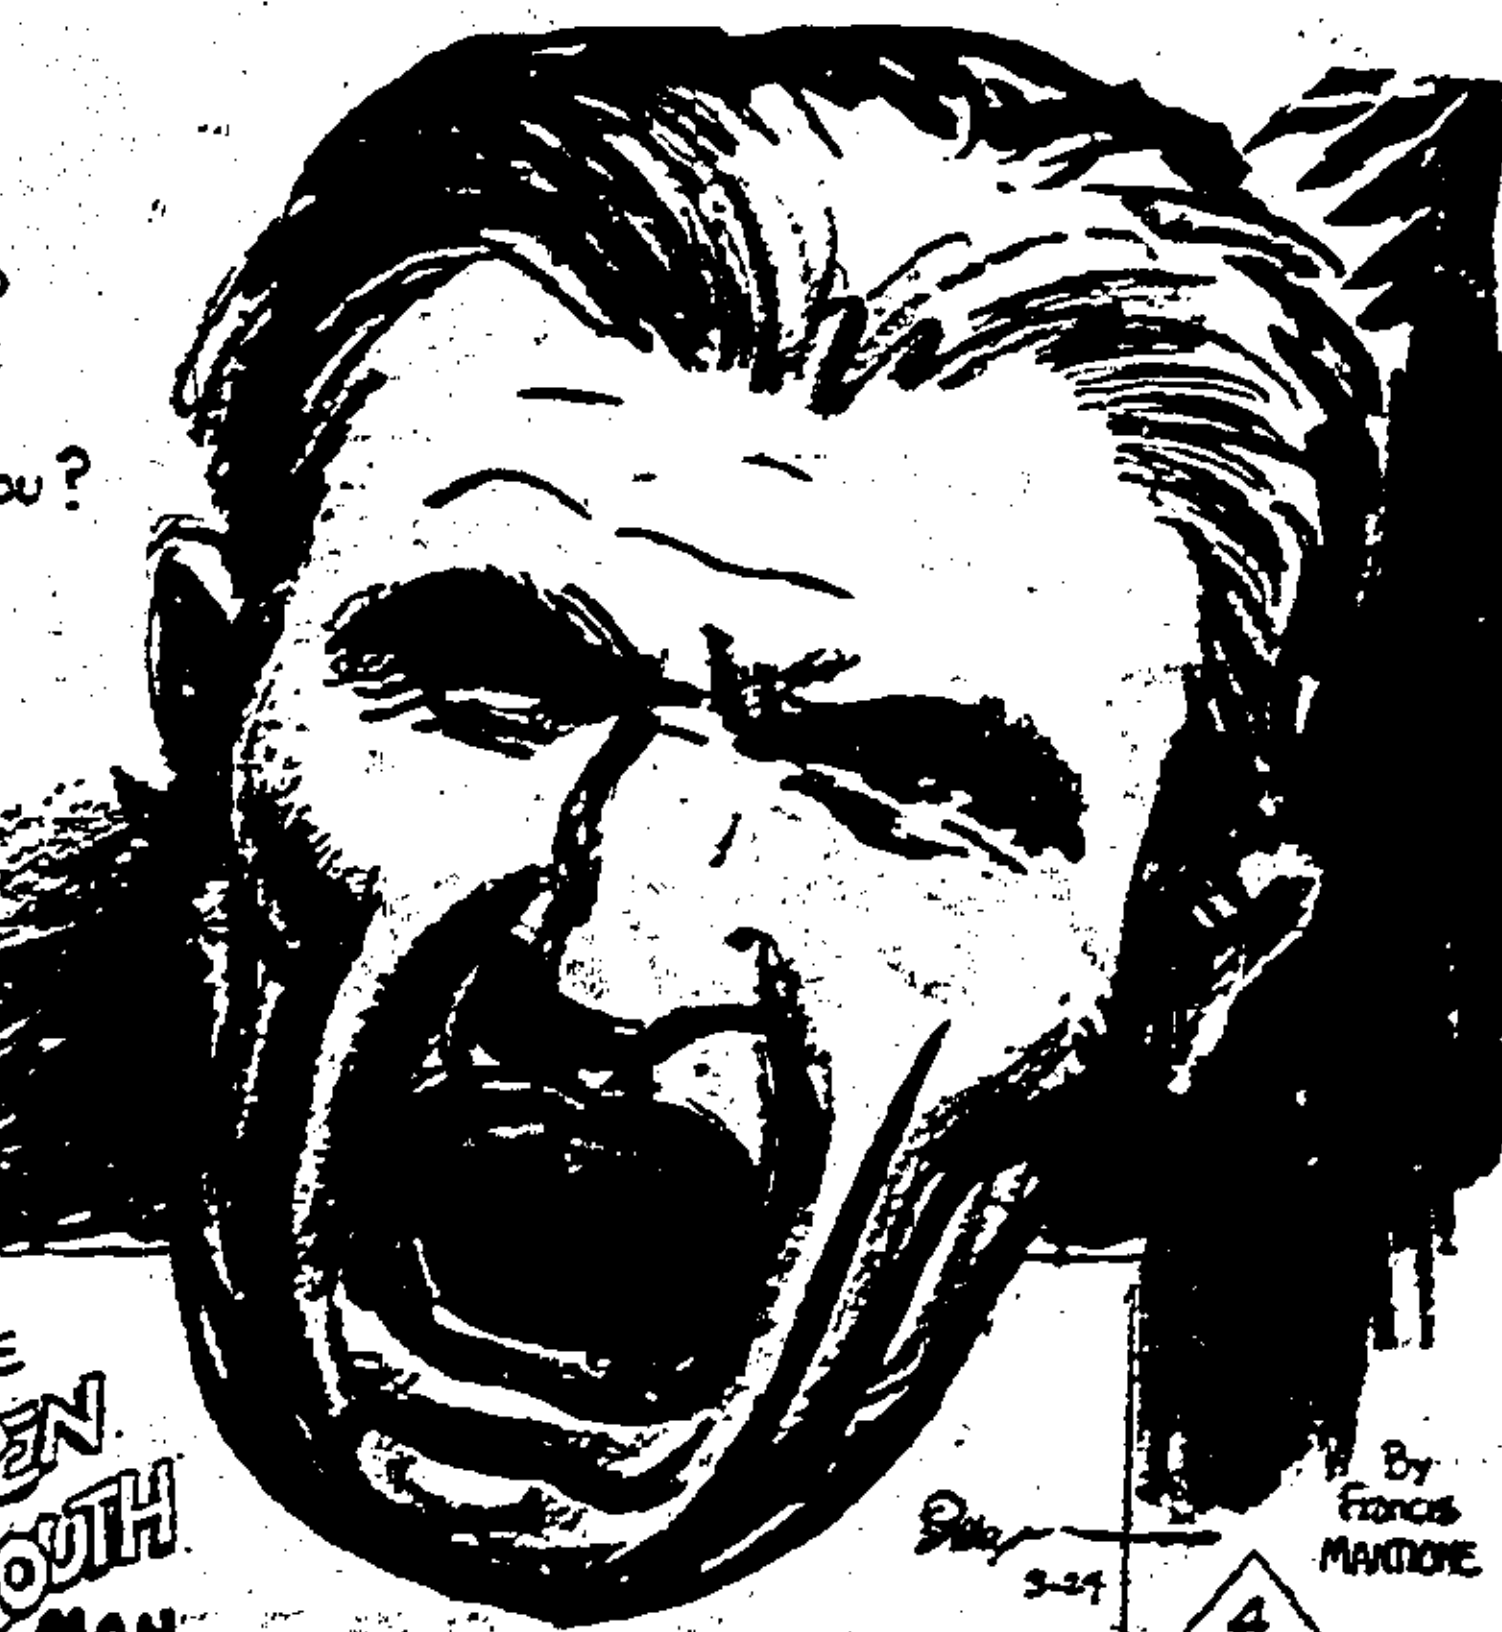

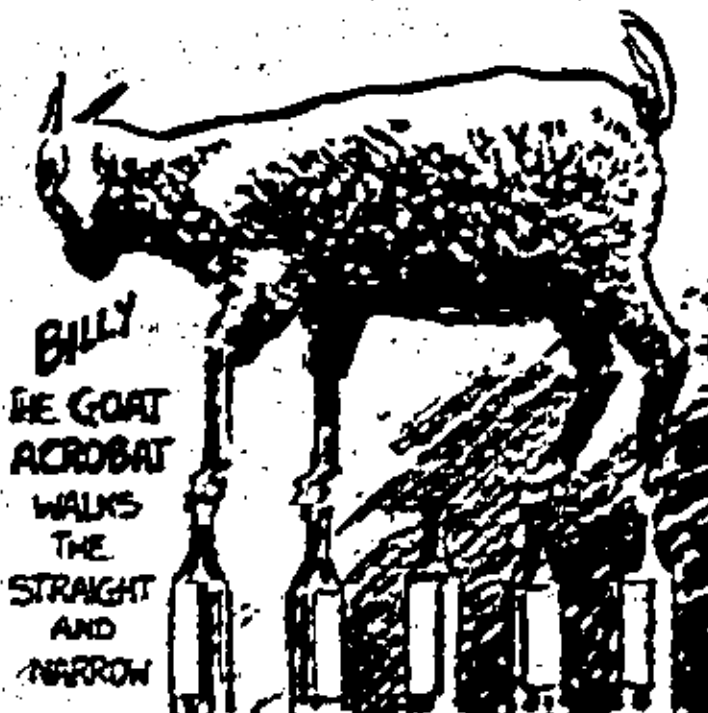

However, it is certain that this nation will not for very long tolerate poverty and want in the midst of plenty. Many small farmers, who are called "share-croppers" because they

SUCCESSFUL CLEAVING OF HUGE STONE

Jonker Gem Weighing 726 Carats

MAJOR PORTION TO FORM $2,000,000 NECKLACE

New York.

The eyes of Lazare Kaplan, diamond cutter, shone with happy tears as he told how he performed the biggest job of his career—the first cleaving of the Jonker diamond.

The 726-carat gem which was till then the world's largest and finest uncut diamond, is now in three pieces. Later these will be split into 12, which the owner hopes to see sold in a $2,000,000 necklace.

It was Mr. Kaplan's task to tap the uncut jewel, which Jacobus Jonker found in a south African mine, with a brass hammer and ever it for the first time—an operation so delicate that even the owner, Harry Winston, wouldn't look on.

The diamond fell apart perfectly.

Mr. Kaplan's son Leo, who held the wedge while his father tapped the hammer, said: "There was a silent moment. Then I shouted with joy. It's perfect!"

Anxiety And Relief

Mrs. Kaplan, who has been cutting diamonds for 37 years, smiled, "I didn't say anything. I was so glad it was over. Then I rushed to a telephone and told my wife."

The cleaving took place at 4 p.m. on April 27 in Mr. Kaplan's midtown office. A detective who was on guard left the room when the process began, and the two diamond-cutters were alone.

"I felt that the whole world was watching," Mr. Kaplan said.

"Before I did it, I went away for three days."

Young Kaplan wore an apron to catch diamond chips in case any flew off, but none came.

Six Months Study

The actual cleaving took but a few seconds; but Mr. Kaplan had been studying the diamonds grooves and planning the cleft for six months. He is a brown-eyed, bald man, a native of Belgium.

Winston said the cleaving was uninsured, although the uncut gem was insured for $1,000,000. He said his insurance brokers were told by Lloyd's of London, "the risk is too great."

One piece of the gem, when the cleaving and polishing is complete, will be 165 carats. This is expected eventually to go to a museum.

If not sold in a necklace or as a collection, the gems will be sold separately.

ANOTHER MILITARY COUP IN BOLIVIA

Thirty-Fifth In 108 Years

La Paz (Bolivia).—A military coup has been carried out in Bolivia. President Sorzano has resigned and the Army has taken over the Government.

The capital is calm and the military Government announces that there has been no violence and no arrests. The movement is described as "without hate or for social improvement."

This is the 35th coup d'état in Bolivia's 108 years of independence. Both Bolivia and Paraguay have now been the scenes of successful military coups since the signing of peace last January ended the four years' war between them.

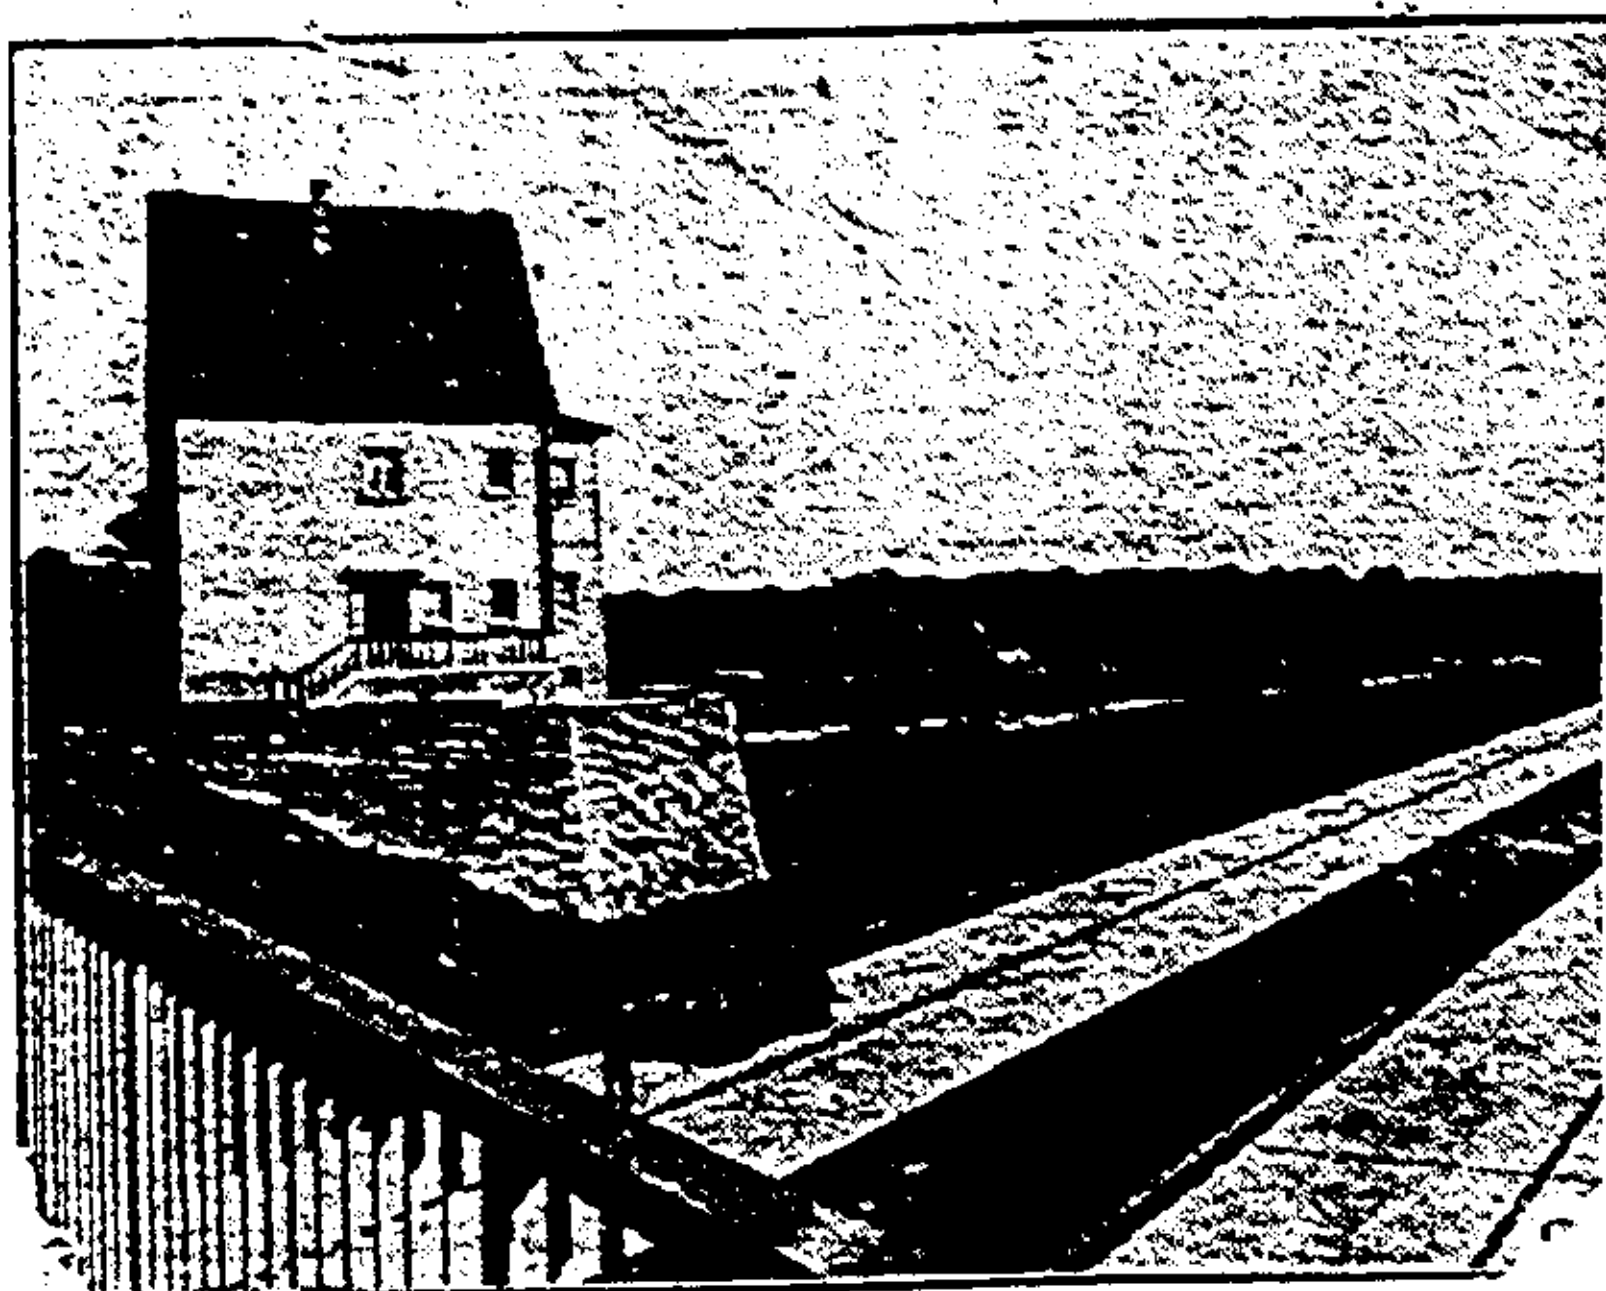

VULTURES ATTACK LORRY

Driver Badly Injured

A horde of vultures numbering about 200 have attacked a lorry loaded with goods returning from Thebes to Levidia, say an Athens report. The driver was seriously injured.

He tried to beat off the vultures with an iron bar. He managed to kill six, but was wounded during the struggle. He was in danger when a passenger bus from Athens arrived.

The passengers drove the vultures off.

DANCING DENOUNCED AS "IMMORAL"

Scottish Synod's Verdict

Modern dancing was denounced in a report submitted to the Synod of the Free Presbyterian Church of Scotland meeting in Glasgow recently, by a committee on morals and temperance.

No reference was made to the Dornoch dispute which resulted in the suspension from the church of Provost John Murray, one of the elders, because he allowed dancing at a party for his daughter at Christmas, 1934. Provost Murray was present, but took no part in the proceedings, his case being down for discussion by the Synod in private.

CAR REGISTRATIONS IN BRITAIN

March Creates New Record

A return issued by the Ministry of Transport shows that the number of new motor vehicles registered in March—52,909—was the highest monthly total on record. It compares with 47,922 in March, 1935.

The figures for the several classes are as follows:

Cars (taxed on H.P.)	34,935	32,950
Cycles	6,884	5,792
Hackney vehicles	887	724

HALFPENNY-A-MILE AEROPLANE

New British Machine

A new light aeroplane, which it is claimed, costs less than a halfpenny a mile to run, was demonstrated for the first time in England at the Great West Aerodrome, near Hayes, Middlesex, last month.

It is a British machine, named "Tipey," and it was tried out by M. Eyskens, the Belgian airman.

The machine is said to be the latest development of this type of aircraft. It costs £265, has a cruising speed of 70 miles an hour, a top speed of 98 m.p.h., a landing speed of 37 m.p.h., and a range of 400 miles. For an hour's run it consumes one and a half gallons of petrol costing 2s. 3d., and half a pint of oil, costing 7d.

PRESIDENT WHO EARNS £2 A DAY

Finance Minister's £1

The salary of the President of Chile is £2 a day, while the Finance Minister earns £1 a day! This disclosure was made by the Finance Minister, Don Gustavo Ross, at a banquet of the Ibero-American Benevolent Society in London recently.

"To be able to meet our obligations," said Senator Ross, "we live modestly, bordering I might say, on poverty."

"The modest servant of the Republic who stands before you and controls her finances devotes to his task from 12 to 14 hours a day of hard work in return for his daily £1."

HYPNOTIC BAGMAN

WIDOW PARTS WITH SHARES TO STRANGER

Irresistible Method Of Swindler

OLD BAILEY SEQUEL

"He sort of hypnotises people," said Mrs. Mary Acason, of Wellington, Somerset, at the Old Bailey, when referring to Dore Isidore Baumgart, 41, a traveller.

Baumgart pleaded not guilty to conspiring with Clarence Young and Charles White, and other persons unknown, to cheat and defraud by false pretences persons who might be induced to part with certain share certificates to Percy Bennett and Co. Ltd.

Mr. G. D. Roberts, prosecuting, said it was alleged that Baumgart toured the country and persuaded persons to part with share certificates amounting to a substantial sum.

"The various principals in the business—and the various assistants disappeared before the end of May," said Mr. Roberts. "When the financial balance-sheet was reckoned up it was found that the company was owing about £107,000 to the investing public—all of it, in the submission of the prosecution, having been obtained by fraud."

Plausible

Mrs. Acason, a widow, said that Baumgart almost pushed his way into her house. She described him as being "very nice and very plausible."

"He made me believe him," she added. "I told him I was very poor, that my husband died suddenly, and that I had hard work to keep my home."

She added that she did not give Baumgart the shares, but produced a deed box, and he chose what he wanted. He stated that the shares would not be sold, but deposited in a bank and held as collateral security.

Mrs. Acason added that she heard Sir Thomas Inskip's broadcast about sharepushers. She questioned Baumgart, who told her that it was the company that had asked Sir Thomas to make the broadcast.

"CRIMINAL FACE"

Proves Difficult Of Identification

STUDENTS PUT TO TEST WITH PHOTOGRAPHS

"There is no such thing as a criminal type of face," Dr. Frank E. August told his criminology class at the University of Kansas City, and to prove it he passed out 75 newspaper pictures from which he had clipped the identifying captions and substituted numbers. About half were of criminals, the other half good citizens, and the students were asked to designate which.

The average of the 40 replies was slightly better than half right. An Ohio kidnapper was voted a good citizen by 30 per cent. of the class. One man was rated as a good citizen on the basis of a photograph of him in business clothes, and as a criminal from a picture of him in dishevelled attire with several days' growth of beard. The best reply classified 53 of the 75 pictures correctly.

THE ENGLISH CUP OF TONIC

Boy Patient Cheered By View

The English Cup was placed at the bedside of a small boy who is on the danger list at the Royal Free Hospital, Gray's Inn-road, recently.

Mr. George Allison, manager of the Arsenal, who won the Cup, received a message from the hospital that a boy who was critically ill had one desire in life—to see the famous Cup.

He took it round at once in his car.

Afterwards, a sister at the hospital told Mr. Allison on the telephone that the sight of the Cup was the best tonic the boy could have had.

"He brightened up at once, and is all smiles now," she said.

TWO DEAD FOR A HEN

Trying to rescue a hen which had fallen into a ten-foot-deep pit, Ferdinand Matthes, a labourer, in the Nikolas-See suburb of Berlin, fell into the pit, and was overcome by the fumes. His aunt, 70-year-old Berta Bock, went to his rescue, but also collapsed. Both died.

CRASH AFTER PARTY

Inquest On Officer And Girl

CAR CRASHES INTO LORRY

Egham.

Misadventure was the verdict at the inquest at Egham, Surrey last month on an officer and girl who were killed when their car struck the back of a lorry at Cut Hills, Virginia, Water, at two a.m. one morning. The victims were: Miss Rosamund Kattering Etches, aged 24, of the Secretary's Lodge, Bisley Camp.

2nd Lt. Allen Bartlett, aged 23, of the Wiltshire Regt. and Lynwood, Church-lane, Aldershot. Charles Edward Etches, secretary to the National Rifle Association, father of Miss Etches, said his daughter and Lt. Bartlett were returning from a party at Staines.

Richard Thomas, an officer of the 2nd Bn. Wiltshire Regiment, Cowshot Camp, Bisley, stated that he and two other officers were at Staines early on the morning in question. They saw Lt. Bartlett's car and followed it, but later lost sight of it. Shortly afterwards they came upon the accident.

Skull Fractured

Dr. Eric Gardner said Miss Etches had been thrown against the wind screen, and her skull was fractured. Lt. Bartlett's neck was broken.

Arthur McCabe, of Southampton-street, Camberwell, driver of the lorry, said he was driving to Exeter. Finding that his engine was not pulling well he got out on a wide piece of road to examine it. His rear light was all right before the accident.

MORE "NEW LIFE" OUTBREAKS

Shantung Shocked By Female Fashions

Following in the footsteps of the Cantonese "purity promoters," the Shantung provincial authorities have launched a campaign against female attire which they consider detrimental to the morals of the community. The Tsinan police have begun to go through the city in search of "queer dresses." They have stopped quite a number of women on the streets who were wearing dresses exposing their elbows and knees. These women were permitted to go on their way only after promising that they would not wear such dresses again. Seven young women were taken to the police headquarters because they were wearing dresses with "sex appeal." They were later released.

Non-Smokers Claiming Recognition Of Rights

Manchester. Theatre forbids smoking on Tuesday evenings.

In no other country, it is held, has the habit of indiscriminate smoking been allowed to become so great an offence to the community. In Russia, one member reports, the interior of public buildings is strictly preserved from pollution, although the police are allowed to smoke in the street.

Members of the league also hail with anxiety news that smoking is now allowed in a branch library in one English town. Hitherto such places have always been free from this habit.

MR. AND MRS. A. T. HAMILTON

Leaving Colony On Retirement

POPULAR HEADMASTER

Mr. Andrew Todd Hamilton, a senior member on the staff of the Education Department, who has been a resident in the Colony for over 35 years, leaves the Colony for Home to-morrow on retirement. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Hamilton and by their departure Hong Kong will lose two very popular and respected residents.

Mr. Hamilton arrived in the Colony on June 1, 1903, for the Ellis Kadoorie School, then a private school. He joined the Government in 1910 and has been in various schools since, being Headmaster of the Ellis Kadoorie Indian School for the past eight years.

In his early days here, he lived in Kowloon and was one of the original members of the Kowloon Cricket Club.

Interport Footballer

His favourite sport was soccer, and he played against Shanghai in 1908 and 1913. He did a great deal to foster soccer amongst the schools in Hong Kong, was on the council of the Hong Kong Football Association for many years and a past President of the H.K. Football Club. His favourite recreations now are golf and lawn bowls.

Mr. Hamilton was a very ardent Volunteer in pre-war days. He went Home in 1917 and joined up, and saw service in France, returning to the Colony in 1919. He was made a Justice of the Peace last year.

Social Worker

Mrs. Hamilton arrived in Hong Kong some seventeen years after her husband, and during her 16 years has led a very active life, her services being greatly in demand for social work.

When Lady Clementi started the Cheong Club, Mrs. Hamilton was one of her original lieutenants and she has greatly enjoyed the work among the Service men. Lately she has devoted her energies to working for the Busy Bees, an organisation which does a lot of good work in a quiet way and raises considerable sums for charity.

They are leaving by the Empress of Japan to-morrow, and after visiting relatives in Canada and America expect to get Home just before Christmas.

Their intention is to settle down in the West of Scotland.

R.H.Y.C. Presentation

At the conclusion of the bowls match on Saturday, between the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club and Craighower, Mr. B. E. Maughan, on behalf of members of the former club, presented Mr. Hamilton with a bowler's travelling case, and, in a happy speech, eulogised Mr. Hamilton's association with them, to which Mr. Hamilton replied, expressing his keen regret at having to sever his connection with them and the game in Hong Kong.

Yesterday afternoon, the Staff of the Indian School entertained Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton at a farewell tea-party at the Gloucester Hotel, when Mr. M. Abdullah, the senior master, presided.

It is understood that Mr. Hamilton's place at the Ellis Kadoorie Indian School will be taken by Mr. A. White.

S. AFRICAN DEBT TO THE NAVY

George V. Memorial Proposal

IMPERIAL QUESTIONS

Cape Town.—South Africa's debt to the Royal Navy for the protection of her shores was the subject of a statement, prepared by Mr. O. Pirow, Minister of Railways and Defence, and read to the House of Assembly last month.

It was made in reply to a motion by Mr. J. S. Marwick, a member of the Dominion Party, who proposed a plan providing for the admission of 500 South Africans to the Royal Navy. He suggested that South Africa should make an annual maximum contribution of £300,000 as a King George V. Memorial Grant to the Royal Navy.

Mr. Havenga, Finance Minister, said that while he had no wish to minimise the great value of the Navy for the protection of trade routes and for the safety of the Union generally, the British Government in its turn was satisfied with the obligations which South Africa had undertaken.

Motion Rejected

A number of Government speakers showed sympathy with Mr. Marwick's motion, but appealed to him to withdraw it, especially in view of the fact that Mr. Pirow had already left for England on an important mission.

Mr. Marwick declined to withdraw his motion, which was rejected without a division.

A number of questions of Imperial importance, including those connected with Empire defence, are expected to be discussed in London by Mr. Pirow.

Before leaving here he stated that Cape Town harbour and docks would certainly be discussed.

Representatives of the Governments of Canada and Australia, who are already in London, will, it is understood, take advantage of Mr. Pirow's presence to discuss matters of common interest.

Six Lives Lost In Fog Collision: Trawler Sinks

Hull.—Six fishermen were drowned in a collision between a steam trawler and an oil tanker off Withernsea, on the Yorkshire coast, one morning last month.

The 14 remaining members of the crew were picked up by the tanker. The trawler sank within three minutes. There was a dense fog at the time of the accident.

The trawler, Picador (424 tons), belonging to the Hull Northern Fishing Company, was returning from the Bear Island fishing grounds in the Arctic Circle. She was within a few miles of the entrance to the River Humber.

The oil tanker, San Salvador (5,805 tons), owned by the Eagle Oil and Shipping Company and registered in London, was bringing a cargo of oil from Mexico to the Tyne.

BRITAIN'S BID FOR PEACE

NEED FOR STRONG NAVY AGAIN STRESSED

SIR SAMUEL HOARE'S SPEECH

London, To-day.

At a meeting of the Central Council of the National Union of Conservative Associations yesterday, a resolution proposed by Sir Henry Page-Croft was carried without dissent, calling upon the Government to resist any proposals which might tend to weaken the integrity of the Empire. Another resolution, demanding that none of the Mandated territories under British control be surrendered to the League of Nations or to the sovereignty of any foreign Power, was also carried.

Speaking last night at a dinner of the Royal Empire Society Sir Samuel Hoare said it was criminal folly to assume that war was inevitable. There was, however, now such inflammable material in Europe that although no country desired war a spark might start a conflagration unless the great Powers, like Britain, were strong enough to make their influence felt in the cause of peace. That was why they were doing their utmost still further to accelerate the naval programme.

If the British army, navy and air force were adequately strengthened in time there was going to be no world war.

Discussing the question whether a well-balanced fleet, capable of defeating an enemy and keeping the seas open, equipped to go anywhere and concentrated upon its three essential duties of cover, cruising and convoy could be built in the face of the changes created by air power, Sir Samuel Hoare said that neither the Staff nor he would ever be so foolish as to say that defence had caught up with attack. But if asked whether the advent of air power had changed the functions of the navy and had made it impossible to build a fleet that could carry out its traditional duties, his answer was "No." In building such a fleet his advisers were determined to make the fullest use of air power, and so to make the new fleet predominant and the most mobile force of peace in the world.

Two Lessons Learned

There were two lessons that emerged from the experience of the last six months. The first was that collective security, in actual practice, meant a British fleet in the Mediterranean. It was the embodiment of collective security. Deprived of the advantages of mobilisation and of carefully-laid preparations, faced with disturbing anxieties, international uncertainties and long protracted crisis, the fleet in the Mediterranean and the Red Sea had performed with constancy and efficiency the duty that was imposed upon it. It had completely fulfilled its duty of preventing an extension of the conflict.

Dependent On Navy

These lessons showed that the League, no less than the world of the twentieth century, depended upon a strong British navy as one of the great factors of peace. Secondly, the absence of collective military action in the autumn showed that the British Empire, while it would do its utmost to achieve the ideal of collective security, must still depend upon its imperial defences and particularly upon a strong British navy. These lessons deserved to be pondered calmly and dispassionately at home and by the Dominions.

"In spite of the changes the fundamental fact remains that the Empire depends for its life on its sea communications. Let us then learn wisdom from the experience of the last six months. We are determined to stop the drift to war. Stronger in future than we have been in recent years, our influence in the cause of peace will be greater and not less."—British Wireless Service.

NAVAL AFFAIRS IN EUROPE

The Anglo-German Agreement

London, To-day.

In reply to a request yesterday in the House of Commons for a statement concerning the points of the difference of interpretation regarding the Anglo-German Naval Agreement, the First Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Samuel Hoare, said he welcomed the opportunity of saying that all details had been settled in a satisfactory and friendly manner, and that there had been no question of any material difference of interpretation on any point.—British Wireless Service.

DEFENCE METHODS IN BRITAIN

Mr. Winston Churchill Dissatisfied

London, To-day.

Speaking in London yesterday, Mr. Winston Churchill expressed dissatisfaction with the present methods of discussing arrangements for national defence. In his view Parliament should set up a committee representing all the parties to interrogate the Government secretly, under the protection of confidence, as to the arrangements they were making in the different spheres of defence.—British Wireless Service.

"What time did I come in, Hawkins?"

"I really couldn't say to the minute, Sir. After the Milk, if I may say so, Sir. But definitely before the first post."

"I stuck to Gimlets faithfully last night and I feel as though I'd gone to bed at 10 o'clock on a glass of milk."

"Well they do say, Sir, that lime juice — er — as it were — neutralises the — er — what would have been a nasty hangover, Sir —"

"I say, that's a discovery. Order a stock, but get the best."

"Very good, Sir. Two cases of Rose's Lime Juice. I will order them at once."

UMPIRING IN LOCAL BALL ENCOUNTERS

end, but a little more co-operation from the members of other teams should have been shown last Sunday, when, after playing a hard game in which he was pitching, Thompson undertook to start umpiring the next game so that there would not be any unnecessary delay. When he asked for some one to relieve him there was no one sporting enough to do so, though there were many in the stands who could, if actuated by a little more spirit of sportsmanship, have done so!

Tula's Visit

THE presence of the U.S.S. Tula here provided baseball fans with an opportunity of seeing an excellent game on Sunday afternoon, though it was unfortunately that in the return game on Tuesday the Chinese were not at full strength.

Every opportunity should be taken of the presence of American warships in the Colony for the arranging of friendly games, for through the opposition they are able to provide much can be learned by the local players to the betterment of their game.

Season's Biggest Upset

THE greatest surprise of the season was the display given by the Volunteers on Sunday when they beat the Americans. Though credit must be given to Bowen, the entire team showed a marked improvement in their play, especially in their batting.

The Canadians seemed to be completely put off by the departure of Dreary, their pitcher, and did not show the same spirit as in their previous games. The Canadians have not won a League game since their entry into the local League last year, but they have always been a very keen and sporting crowd and a pleasure to play against inasmuch that their sole interest in the League is for the game's sake.

Mikuni, who was injured a fortnight ago, has now recovered and was seen on Tuesday for the first time against the Chinese. It seems that the rest has done him good, his pitching on Tuesday being as tricky as ever.

The presence of the U.S.S. Mindanao in the Colony for the next fortnight should provide several more friendly games and it is suggested that, when possible, Sunday afternoons be used for such games.

This Saturday, the U.S.S. Mindanao will meet Pui-ching in the League, and on the following day Pui-ching will encounter the Japanese Y.M.A. and the Volunteers. All these games promise to be very closely contested.

Mrs. King was defeated in the morning. It was a pity her conqueror could not have received the applause of an afternoon gallery. Mrs. King asked if she might be allowed to play earlier in order to avoid the Derby traffic on her way home.

AGA KHAN'S THIRD TRIUMPH

As Donoghue was not asked to ride him in the Derby he took the mount on the French colt Bel Aethel, and he was naturally entitled to be registering vexation after the race yesterday.

Heavy Support For Abjer

And now to the preliminaries. It was a perfect Derby day, and the crowd seemed immense—the largest, I should say, since the hectic post-war years. In the betting Pay Up was favourite at 5 to 1, a point shorter than Taj Akbar.

Boswell eased to ninth and started off the same mark as Noble King.

There was an immense amount of money for Abjer, which brought him from his callover price on Tuesday night of 28 to 1 to 100 to 8, the same odds at which Mahmoud started. Bala Hissar was the outsider of Butters quartet.

No colt attracted me so much in the paddock as Pay Up. This beautiful bloodlike son of Fairway was all hard muscle. He was on his toes, and on the best of terms with himself, and the portents for him could not have been fairer. But Lord Astor's bad luck in the Derby clung to him.

Why The Favourite Failed

Pay Up had every chance, was beautifully ridden by Dick, was well placed in the leading division Bowen, the entire team showed a marked improvement in their play, especially in their batting.

The Canadians seemed to be completely put off by the departure of Dreary, their pitcher, and did not show the same spirit as in their previous games. The Canadians have not won a League game since their entry into the local League last year, but they have always been a very keen and sporting crowd and a pleasure to play against inasmuch that their sole interest in the League is for the game's sake.

YOUTH'S SUICIDE UNDER TRAIN

My Heart Died... My Body Will Be Dead

SON WHO PERSISTED IN LEAVING HOME

A youth's suicide after his father's vain attempt to persuade him not to leave home was the subject of an inquest at Paddington last month.

The verdict on Thomas Peter Jones, aged 20, of Fontley, Halls Green, Weston, near Hitchin, who threw himself under a train at Regent's Park Underground Station, was suicide while of unsound mind. The deputy coroner, Dr. Philip Barlow, said Jones was a highly strung, emotional boy. He had written a letter of remorse to his mother. To his father he wrote:

"My heart died at Fontley. My body will be dead in London when you receive this."

"You may think it funny of me to write like this, but I just can't die with the thought that as years went by you had never heard from me and that I was just living without any thought of you."

Violent Temper

Mr. Thomas Arthur Jones, a retired medical practitioner, stated that his son was helping him to run a poultry farm.

"I had to be extremely careful not to find any fault with anything he did," he added. "He had very violent attacks of temper."

Recently he had to speak to him about the farm, and he locked himself in his bedroom for two nights and a day, refusing food.

One morning later Mr. Jones saw his son leaving the house with two suit-cases. He gave him a lift to the station and, advised him not to leave, and said he could always return home.

COSTS AGAINST THE POLICE

MOTORIST DENIES 50 M.P.H. CHARGE

In dismissing a summons against a motorist last month the Brentford (Middlesex) Bench awarded him two guineas costs against the police.

Mr. James Spicer, of Lamp-ton-road, Hounslow, was accused of exceeding the 30 m.p.h. limit on the Bath-road at Hounslow. His speed was alleged to have been 47 to 50 miles an hour.

Mr. Spicer, who denied that he had exceeded the limit, said that he had been driving for 23 years and had never been convicted.

County Councillor P. Chase Gardner, of Bath-road, Hounslow, said that Mr. Spicer had followed his car all the way from High Wycombe, and he was sure that they never exceeded the speed limit on that part of Bath-road.

After the Bench had dismissed the summons Mr. Julius L. Kelly (defending) asked for costs.

He said that he had two more witnesses, who were also men of the highest repute, and who could swear that the speed limit was never exceeded.

He was sorry to say it, but he thought the police officers must have brought the case "merely to justify their existence." It was a case that should never have been brought.

WOMAN KILLED BY CAR

17-Year-Old Driver Censured

A 17-year-old motorist, Hector Francis Lovett Cameron, of Millbrook House, Heathside, Camberley, was censured at the recent Hounslow inquest on Mrs. Hilda May Thompson, aged 31, of Howberry-road, Edgware.

It was stated that while Mrs. Thompson and her husband were crossing the Great West-road, Osterley, they were struck by a car driven by Cameron, and Mrs. Thompson was killed.

Cameron said that he was travelling at between 45 and 50 miles an hour. He did not swerve or sound his horn because the sudden alarm generally frightened people. He braked hard, hoping that the people would stop.

The jury added their censure to a verdict of "accidental death."

THE LAW AND THE HAWKER

Judges Discuss "One-Day" Licences

CASE SENT BACK TO MAGISTRATE

Street trading in Poplar was discussed by a King's Bench Divisional Court last month when a case was remitted to Mr. Herbert Metcalfe, the Old-street magistrate.

The matter arose on a case stated by Mr. Metcalfe following an order made by the High Court in March. George Willmore, a hawker, had been summoned by the Poplar Borough Council, who complained that he had sold fruit from a stall in Rome-road, Bow, E., without a licence.

Mr. Metcalfe dismissed the charge, and awarded Willmore 10 guineas costs, declining to state a case until the Council had obtained a High Court order that he should do so.

Offence Proved?

Mr. R. P. Croom-Johnson, K.C., for the Council, said that one-day licences costing 1s. were granted by a minor official in the street, to street traders. On the day in question, Willmore had no licence. According to Mr. Metcalfe's case stated, he took the view that the restriction of a licence to one day was contrary to the L.C.C. (General Powers) Act, 1927, and was invalid.

Lord Hewart pointed out that the offence was "unlawfully selling without a licence," and that Willmore did not, in fact, have even an invalid one.

Mr. Justice du Parcq said that, according to the Statute, the licence must be for one year. It seemed unfair that street traders should be asked to pay 1s. for "an official-looking document which had no effect at all."

Lord Hewart: The course was apparently adopted out of consideration for street traders.

Giving judgment, Lord Hewart said it was immaterial whether the magistrate disliked the system by which so-called day "licences" were granted by the Council. His only duty was to find that the offence alleged was proved.

WILLIAM POWELL LIMITED

"I am pleased to report that business generally improved towards the close of your financial year and this was reflected in the turnover during the last two months of the year. This improvement has been kept up and, without appearing unduly optimistic, I am of the opinion that indications are that such improvement has come to stay. I can only hope that such is the case and that with the savings in expenses before mentioned, the directors will be able to come before you with a much better report for the current year."

"Referring to the Profit and Loss Account, you will note that the amount written off as Bad Debts, though still high, shows a considerable reduction on that of the previously two years."

"Interest charge has also been reduced considerably and is the direct result of careful financing. It is anticipated that this charge will be still further reduced during the current year. The Directors have again voluntarily waived 50 per cent. of their fees for the year."

WOMEN AS TAX COLLECTORS

"Just As Good As Men"

GOVERNMENT'S STAND CONDEMNED

Scarborough.

The assembly of the Inland Revenue Staff Federation at Scarborough recently passed, with only one dissentient, a resolution condemning the refusal of the Government to grant equal pay to women Civil Servants, doing the same work as men.

Miss A. T. Bone, Birmingham, urged that the Government should give a lead to private employers. Women civil servants had to pass the same entrance examination as men, and to work side by side with them on the same work.

Mr. Plant, London head office, said his eight years in the Post Office had convinced him that women made better telegraphists and counter clerks than men. He was sure they would make just as good tax collectors.

Pensions

Another resolution which was carried urged that Civil Servants' pensions should be regarded as deferred pay, and that they should have the right to retire with proportionate pension at the age of 50.

Mr. R. M. Train, Nottingham, said that the strain of working in the Inland Revenue Department, owing to constant changes in legislation and almost incessant overtime, meant that many officers were worn out long before the age of 60.

Another resolution was passed in favour of the 5-day week.

WOMAN'S DEATH AT 93

Mistook Iodine For Whisky

Mistaking iodine for whisky, Mrs. Ellen Ann Street, aged 93, of Shaftesbury-road, N., drank a fatal dose.

Her son stated at the inquest at St. Pancras last month that he always left her some whisky, as it did her a lot of good. A bottle of iodine, used to treat her after a fall some time ago, was on the mantelpiece. She was found groaning on the floor and covered with iodine.

A verdict of accidental death was recorded.

the Bank has been greatly reduced. This figure stood at approximately $16,000 last year and approximately $35,000 at February, 1934.

"A cautious policy has again been adopted in the purchase of stock, and it will be noted that the value of stocks on hand, as shown in the Balance Sheet, is down considerably on the amount shown last year. The directors feel that this policy has been justified under existing conditions. Such stocks are now valued at or below replacement cost and very little old stock is now being carried."

The chairman's proposal for the adoption of the report and accounts was seconded by Mr. S. H. Ross, and carried unanimously.

OTHER BUSINESS

Mr. S. H. Ross proposed, and Mr. H. Overy seconded, the re-election of Mr. E. M. Raymond to the board of directors, while the re-appointment of Messrs. Linstead and Davis, as auditors, was proposed by Mr. D. Black and seconded by Mr. Wong Ping-fan.
